NEWS from LfPHWM

We recently hosted Health Protection workshop in October. The aim of the workshop was to provide an overview of Health Protection, explain the role of PHE and other organisations and explain the process of managing an outbreak/major incident.

Presentations from the day are available via the link – <http://www.lfphwm.org.uk/past-events/697-31-10-2017>

Our Alcohol licensing Network arranged a workshop in November with a barrister. He provided tips on how best Public Health can present cases within a court like environment. Overall delegates found the session to be very beneficial.

In addition we also supported PHE in delivering the Evaluation workshop on the 8th December 2017. The workshop provided pointers on how to evaluate policies and programmes within a health context.

West Midlands health economics training event

Date: 8th March 2018

Time 10am-4pm (lunch included)

Venue: ground floor 5 St Philips Place, Birmingham,

This event builds upon the previous WM health economics event that was held in January 2016. We will not be covering basic concepts in health economics. Instead this event will be aimed at those who have had some previous training in health economics. It will be an interactive event that will focus on the PHE Return on Investment tools that have been published during 2017/18: further details regarding which tools will be circulated in due course. We will also be providing training on the multi-criteria decision analysis prioritisation tool that is currently in the beta phase of testing.

Target audience: those who are familiar with health economics concepts.

Please make a note of the following events coming up ...

Health and Wealth Conference – 'Two sides of the same coin'

Date: 18th January 2018

Venue: The Priory Rooms, Birmingham

This conference will look at the relationship between Wellbeing and Wealth. It will help participants understand how ethical investment, employment, economic development and social value can address the root causes of poor health, and also how good health is good for the economy.
